

Leading for Exceptional Early Years

This course is ideal for school leaders who may not be a specialist in early years but ultimately responsible for high standards in their early years department. It will provide an opportunity to explore the role of early years in providing an exceptional start for your children and the essential factors required.

The reality, of course, is early years not only has to stand out as being high quality for the benefit of the children, but as the entry point for the school it also needs to be exceptional from a marketing perspective. We will therefore consider how to showcase your early years department for parents.

From curriculum to quality of practice, from assessment and record keeping, to wellbeing, we will look at best practice in line with inspection frameworks to ensure your early years department excels.

All delegates will receive a workbook to support their training with reflective activities to consider between sessions.

CONTENTS COURSE

1. The impact of quality early years on children's education
2. Latest research and evidence in best practice including neuroscience
3. How to recognise good practice in your early years department
4. Building consistency throughout your team of early years professionals
5. Ensuring your early years department stands out from a marketing perspective
6. Excelling at inspection

USEFUL INFORMATION

•••

For: Leaders, including those who may not be Early Years Specialist

Duration: 8 hours

Dates: 17th May, 24th May, 7th June and 14th June 2023 - 17:30 -- 19:30 h (Spanish time)

Trainer: Eva Cartwright

This course will be delivered via Virtual Classroom (Teams)

Price: 140 € per attendant (approximate deduction 104 - 114 €)

Registration deadline: 9th May 2023

* The percentage of "bonificación" will depend on the characteristics of the company and how it carries out the obligatory co-financing of this type of training.

TRAINER: EVA CARTWRIGHT

As Chief Executive of Platinum Training and Consultancy, Eva leads a team of professionals in facilitating training and delivering qualifications for Early Years Practitioners and Teaching Assistants globally. With a background in primary teaching and early years, Eva is an advocate of learning through play, building confidence, motivation and curiosity and supporting professionals to be creative in their approach to get the very best outcomes for children. Eva is frequently invited to speak at conferences led by international school groups and enjoys working directly with schools to lead transformative change.